The committee have not yet given their decision, but there are no two opinions, among the English at least, as to the superiority of the Chaitwood safe. The lierring safe was attacked by men who, very much through Ignorance of the structure they had to deal with (the drawings and working plans were withheld till the last moment.) were not well supplied with tools. The Chaiwood safe was attacked by men who knew hat they had to contend against, and came well provided with tools. The engineers say that the Herting safe ought to have been entered in two hours at the very utmost. The Chaiwood safe, on the contrary, could not have been entered more expeditiously than according to the tactics of the Germans. Its only weak point is in practice unsassiable. The lanks of the safe are usually protected by masonry; and, in any case, there is a very simple remedy for the weakness which the Germans have discovered; the steel plates which form the sides of the box can be welued together where now they are dovetailed.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE .- The Royal Insurance Bond Robbery.—The examination in the case of Dan. Noble, who is charged with the robbery of the Royal Insurance Company, came up before Justice Hogan at the Tombs yesterday morning.

Mrs. Griffin, on cross-examination, testified concerning the dresses she purchased, the value of presents which she had made at St. Catharines and other places. She was also questioned concerning the amount of money her husband had expended in fitting up his house; also as to how much she had paid weekly for her board at the Metropolitan Hotel, and under what name she had registered. At the conclusion of the cross-examination, Mr. Graham, counsel for Mr. Noble, gave notice that he would, on Wednesday morning next, when the case came up again, move to expunge the testimony of Mrs. Griffin on the Ground of incompetency, as she had virtually testified against her husband.

Paris had once been in the employ of Gonzales, and the latter and he would consider the matter. The police of the 25th Precinct were notified of the affair, and proceeded to work up the case. On Friday afternoon they arrested five men on Broadway near 31st street, one of them carrying a carpet bay which appeared to be very heavy. The bag was opened and found to contain fifty-nine copper bars, thinly coated with gold. It is supposed that they were endeavoring to sell the bars for solid gold. The prisoners gave the names of Erique Fernandez, a spaniard, aged twenty-three; Manuel Broderick, Spaniard, aged thirty; Manuel Montez, aged twenty-three; Placido Gracio, a Spaniard, aged twenty-seven; and the Mexican, Paris.

Yesterday afternoon they were taken before Justice Ledwith at Jefferson Market. The counsel for the accused contended that as the metal had not been offered for saile the accused could not be held. Mr. Gonzales not being present the prisoners were detained for examination.
